

Kotaro Kajita 'Bboy Mezu', Instructor

The year was 2001 when Kotaro Kajita collided with his passion for Breakdancing and became Bboy Mezu! He began his adventure as many Hip-Hoppers do, by watching videos and online clips of the breakin' greats and spending painstaking hours perfecting that which flashed across the screen. It was not long before he stepped out of the 'home-studio' and began to learn from the experts. Years later it is now he who has become the expert and gracious teacher of all those that wish to learn the raw art of Hip-Hop Dance. For the past 4 years, Mezu has been working professionally as a studio hip-hop dance instructor throughout Calgary and has even brought his aptitude for instruction online as he stars in instructional dance videos for others to watch, enjoy, and learn from. Although his professional dance career stretches back four years, his insatiable desire to help others reach new heights has found him teaching others for as long as he can remember.

Mezu has many accomplishments under his dancing shoes. He has competed across Canada winning events in Vancouver, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Winnipeg and Toronto. He has also performed all over Calgary for such companies as Encana and the City of Calgary Arts and Culture department. Mezu's resume also includes performances with organizations such as The Calgary Stampede, World Skills (Opening and Closing ceremonies), Labor Day Classic CFL game and the Young Canadians.

We at SoundKreations are confident that you and your students will be pleased with Kotaro Kajita within your classroom this week.
